To Feed and Care for Orphaned Special Needs Children

Greater Philadelphia Chapter

This is not just yet another comedy drama. It is an evergreen classic with a powerful message.

After staging in Dubai, Bahrain, Doha, Singapore, Tokyo and several cities across India, Y Gee is coming to Philadelphia to stage the 80th show of this classic production.

"A stellar performance by YGM. The climax has an interesting twist and a happy ending" - The Hindu

"Audience went home as though they lived through the drama" - Dinamalar

4 P.M. Coffee and snacks. Service posters by children and youth

5 P.M. Drama, Workshop for children and youth

8 P.M. Dinner

Stetson Middle School, 1060 Wilmington Pike (Route 202), West Chester, PA

The Greater Philadelphia Tamil community met in the same (Stetson) school on August 16, 2006, for a Y Gee drama and helped move 60 orphaned mentally challenged children from a dilapidated hallway to a brand new home. Come and join us on October 3rd and be a part of the completion of the Anbalayam project. This will be one of your MOST MEMORABLE charitable contributions that will continue to have a lasting impact on hundreds of our "special" children for generations to come.
